FREE RANGE GRAIN FED DUCKS

We are delighted to bring you this fantastic brand Waechter Dux, who farm these unique free range grain fed ducks in Flaxmans Valley, in the Barossa Valley, South Australia.

The ducks have a special diet consisting predominately of Barossa grown, fresh grains. The ducks are fed twice daily, the feed mix consists of barley, wheat, peas and corn. With Lucerne chaff, low percentages of faba beans, sorgum, triticale, fish meal and oats mixed in. The ducks are free to roam the vineyard, dams, natural springs, fruit orchids and cow paddocks eating wild grasses, snails and bugs.

Free Range Pekins have a gamier taste, similar to a wild duck and are more fatty whereas Muscovies are lighter in both fat and taste by far the best yeilding duck breed available, a long time favourite with Europeans.

These ducks have a unique taste. The meat is extremely flavour-some as well as being meaty and tender. Try this duck with any of your favourite recipes and you will love the difference.
